

Information of the 131st Annual JFR Meeting

February 19, 2020

Members of the Japanese Forest Society
Prospective participants of the 131st Annual JFS Meeting

Thank you very much for your cooperation for the activities of Japanese Forest Society. Many of the prospective participants may be worried that the 131st Annual JFR Meeting will not be held as scheduled due to the spread of the new coronavirus within Japan.

At this stage, preparations are underway to hold the event on March 27-30 at Nagoya University, etc. as scheduled.

We hope that all prospective participants will keep on preparing for the 131st Annual JFR meeting.

If we have to make a decision to cancel the meeting because the social situation become more serious in the future, we will promptly send the information via the notice on the conference web page or by e-mail.

It is only around a month until the scheduled days of the 131st Annual JFR meeting. We are looking forward to seeing you at the the meeting. Thank you for your understanding.

President of Japanese Forest Society Keiko KURODA
Organizer of the 131th Annual JFR Meeting Chisato TAKENAKA